LONDON, August 27, 1773.

A Correspondent gives it as his opinion, that there is not a man in Great-Britain, except Messrs BERNARD and MORDAUNT (who have been faithful fellow-labourers in sowing tares among the wheat) hardened enough even to attempt a justification of Messrs. HUTCHINSON and OLIVER's conduct, where may be ONE now drinking the waters at the German Spa, who, if he were here, might possibly make up an honourable trimmvirate. It is, however, pleasant enough to see those advocates for H & O. adopt the signature of "An Enemy to all Villains," and affix it to a piece wherein they say, the late Resolves of Boston are the result of a Faction; when these Resolves appear to be the unanimous doings of his Majesty's Council as to number, and of the Commons House of Assembly, consisting of many more than an hundred Members.

These worthy advocates further say, would Virginia, or New-York, have thus acted under the like circumstances? Let the Baronet and his associate wait a little while, and see what those provinces will do, in consequence of the very letters in question, although the honourable writers of them have no particular connection with these provinces.

It is said, that the present chief servants of Government in Boston are to be recalled, as nothing else, it is thought, will restore the peace of the Province.

Sept. 2. Our great and wise Ministers are at length, it is said, brought to their senses; the warm opposition their measures have met with on the other side of the water, compelling them to acknowledge they have strained the bow far beyond their original intention.

We hear that a certain American Governor concluded a letter which he lately wrote to one of the Secretaries of State with these remarkable words: "I now perceive nothing will re-establish my authority, therefore I beg to be recalled, and that speedily, otherwise I may probably be soon called to another world."

It is confidently asserted that letters of recall were last week privately sent off to Governor Hutchinson.

Sept. 7. However our Ministers may affect incredulity, it is the general opinion that the Spaniards are only waiting a plausible occasion for the commencement of hostilities, with a power that has most complaisantly permitted them to make the necessary preparations.

Would it not be a little hard, asks a correspondent, should an insurrection in a neighbouring kingdom be the consequence of the ministerial darings, & ministerial manœuvres, that the people should be branded with the name of Rebels, who were peaceable, loyal, and uncomplaining, until roused by unwarrantable attacks on their Property and Liberties?

September 21. All the Letters from the Continent express their astonishment on account of the preparations for war carried on in every quarter, and more particularly in all the Prussian Dominions.

LONDON, Sept. 23.

That the treacherous behaviour of a certain American Governor should meet with the approbation of an arbitrary ministry, can be no matter of astonishment, when we consider that this mean fellow is the immediate agent of their darling views, to enslave the people, and introduce arbitrary power, by changing the land-mark of British liberty—a civil government into a military one—Surely the degeneracy of human nature cannot furnish us with a more accomplished traitor to the freedom of mankind, than he who appears to be the author of certain Letters from America lately published.

NEWPORT, Nov. 22. We are assured that 50 or 60 families in this town, who have constantly used tea in their houses for a long time, have lately entirely refrained from that pernicious herb; and that numbers of others are on the point of abandoning that disgraceful practice of tea-drinking. As a most useful hint to tea-drinkers, we can assure them from the best authority, that all Bohea Tea, as well as Green by being kept a considerable time, will breed a kind of insect, somewhat resembling a flea, which renders the tea more pernicious to health than it would otherwise prove. and therefore as the East-India company are so anxious to force their rotten tea into this country, it is most probable that it is greatly damaged by these insects, so that they cannot sell it at home, for which reason it behooves the Americans to be very cautious in buying tea of any kind, more especially what comes from England: But the surest way is to drink none.

BOSTON, November 29.

Last Saturday arrived Capt. Clark, in a Brig, from London, which he left the latter End of August.—And Yesterday Morning Capt. Hall, in the Ship Dartmouth, came to Anchor near the Castle, in about 8 Weeks from the same Place; on board of whom it is said, are 114 Chests of the so much detested East India Company's TEA, the expected arrival of which pernicious Article has for some Time past put all these northern Colonies in a very great Ferment:—And this Morning the following Notification was posted up in all Parts of the Town, viz.

Friends! Brethren! Countrymen!

THAT worst of Plagues the detested TEA shipped for this Port by the East-India Company, is now arrived in this Harbour; the Hour of Destruction or manly Opposition to the Machinations of Tyranny stares you in the Face; every Friend to his Country, to himself and Posterity, is now called upon to meet at FANEUIL-HALL, at NINE o'Clock,

THIS DAY,

(at which Time the Bells will ring) to make a united and successful Resistance to this last, worst and most destructive Measure of Administration.

Boston, November 29. 1773

So that as yet we cannot inform our Readers what will be the Consequence of this Importation; but it is said the Gentlemen to whom the Tea is consigned are disposed to do every Thing in their Power to quiet the Minds of the People relative thereto, and are willing that baneful Article should be reshipped to the Place from whence it came!—However, be that as it may, we are assured it will not be permitted to be landed or sold here, it being the Determination of almost all the People, both of Town and Country, resolutely to oppose this artful Measure of the India Company in every possible Way. (a)

Two or three other Vessels were to sail from London for this Place soon after Capt. Hall, and may be daily expected, having each of them on board a Quantity of this said poisonous Weed.

We hear that no Tea was shipp'd for the Southern Colonies when Capt. Hall sailed, the Masters of their trading Ships nobly refusing to take it on board;—but that the East-India Company were about taking up Vessels on their own Account for that Purpose.

The News-Papers received from London, are not of so late a Date as those we have already had per the Haley, Capt. Scott.

AT a very full meeting of the inhabitants of the town of Cambridge legally assembled, Nov. 26, 1773. Capt. EBENEZER STEADMAN, Moderator.

The following Resolves passed unanimously.

This town being greatly alarmed at an Act of the British parliament passed in the last session of parliament, whereby the East-India company in London are empowered to export their Teas on their own account to the British plantations in America, and expose the same to sale, subject to a duty payable in America to be collected by a set of worse than Egyptian task masters, (b) which if submitted to, we fear will prove fatal to the Colonies.—And as we apprehend the sense of this town cannot be better expressed than by adopting the Resolves of the patriotic Citizens of Philadelphia.

Resolved, That the disposal of their own property is the inherent right of Freemen; that there can be no property in that which another can, of right, take from us without our consent; that the claim of parliament to tax America, is, in other words, a claim of right to levy contributions on us at pleasure.

2. That the duty imposed by parliament upon Tea landed in America, is a tax on the Americans, or levying contributions on them without their consent.

3. That the express purpose for which the Tea is levied on the Americans, namely, for the support of government, the administration of justice, and the defence of his Majesty's dominions in America, has a direct tendency to render Assemblies useless, and to introduce arbitrary government and slavery.

4. That a virtuous and steady opposition to this ministerial plan of governing America is absolutely necessary to preserve even the shadow of liberty, and is a duty which every Freeman in America owes to his country, to himself, and to his posterity.

5. That the resolution lately come into by the East-India company, to send out their Tea to America, subject to the payment of duties on its being landed here, is an open attempt to enforce the ministerial plan, and a violent attack upon the liberties of America.

6. That it is the duty of every American to oppose this attempt.

7. That whoever shall, directly or indirectly, countenance this attempt, or in any wise aid or abet in unloading, receiving or vending the tea sent, or to be sent out by the East-India company, while it remains subject to the payment of a duty here, is an enemy to America.

And whereas the Town of Boston have assembled twice on this alarming occasion, and at each meeting did choose a committee of very respectable gentlemen to wait upon the persons who are appointed by the East-India company to receive and sell said Tea, and in a genteel manner requested them to resign their appointment:—Notwithstanding, the said Factors have repeatedly refused to give them any satisfaction, but on the contrary, their answers were evasive and highly offensive.

By such a conduct they have forfeited all right and title to any respect from their fellow-countrymen.

Therefore Resolved, That this town will by no means shew them any Respect whatever, but view them as enemies to their country. (b)

And whereas it is reported that the said factors of the East-India company by their conduct have rendered themselves despicable in the town of Boston; yet they can retire into the country towns, where they are treated with respect, which if true is truly scandalous.

Therefore, Resolved, That any one who shall harbour said factors in their houses, except said factors immediately make full satisfaction, to this justly incensed people, are unfriendly to their country.

Resolved, That any person or persons, inhabitants of this province, that shall import any teas subject to the payment of a duty in America; are in an eminent degree, enemies to their country, and ought to be treated with equal contempt and detestation with the present supposed factors.

And as it is very apparent that the Town of Boston are now struggling for the Liberties of their Country:

Therefore, Resolved, That this Town can no longer stand idle Spectators, but are ready on the shortest Notice, to join with the Town of Boston and other Towns, in any Measure that may be thought proper, to deliver ourselves and Posterity from Slavery.

Attest. ANDREW BORDMAN, Town-Clerk.

Last Saturday the Inhabitants of the Town of Charlestown, (being alarmed at the present Situation of the public Affairs and particularly at the open attempt to carry into Execution the Revenue Act by the sale of TEA appointed by the East-India Company (for that sole purpose,) had a very full Meeting; when they made Choice of a Committee of Correspondence to confer immediately with the Committees of this and the neighbouring Towns; and then adjourned 'till Wednesday next. The following Gentlemen are the Committee of Correspondence, viz.

Capt. Isaac Foster, Mr. Peter Edes, Mr. John Frothingham, Mr. Richard Devens, David Cheever, Esq; Mr. Nathaniel Frothingham, Mr. John Codman, Dr. Isaac Foster, and Mr. William Wyer.

LADIES,

HOWEVER coolly some of you may now esteem your Husbands, it might be worth your while to consider whether by your abandoning that accursed TEA, you will preserve your country and posterity in peace and good order, or expose twenty five thousand of them to spill their blood, in defence of their undoubted Birthright.

Extract from the Chinese Traveller:

These warehouses are commonly large, full of teas standing in baskets as they are brought from the field. It is packed in coops lined with sheet-lead, to keep it from wet or damps, which would entirely spoil it. I have seen two hundred coolies or porters, all naked to the middle, packing and treading the tea in chests. Two of them got into a chest together, and tread it down as it is filled. I make no doubt, but that if some nice British ladies were to see some of these coolies, with their nasty feet and legs, perform this office, they would be apt to lose conceit of their beloved plant.

Sometime since a gentleman from a neighbouring province was in a Barber's shop of this town, and discoursing with some persons present, he observed we had a gentleman of a pretty singular turn at the head of our government. Being asked what he particularly referred to, he answered, he had a public affair of considerable moment for assistance, in which he needed to apply to the authority in this province, and had visited Gov. Hutchinson at Milton upon the occasion. After opening the matter a little, the Governor told him he had better apply to the General Assembly. The gentleman then requested his opinion of the probable success in his application. He replied it could hardly fail were he in apparent opposition to it; but on the contrary, should he appear to favor it, it would never go down with the Court. The gentleman expressed his surprize at such a scandalous representation of the caprice of the representative body of so reputable a people, observing that his Governor tho' an equal dependant on the Crown, would suffer any extremity before he would even countenance an unfavorable opinion of the disposition of his people.

Tho' this discovery surprized both the relator and reporter of it, I presume similar specimens of his Excellency's tenderness for the honor of the lawful government of this territory have been so frequently handed out, that few will esteem the above extraordinary for him. Besides it must be considered that this is a fretful season with his Excellency. His darling baby Bohea tea, however cheap and lightly burdened with arbitrarily imposed tribute, does not appear as if it would go down with the obstinate and capricious people as his Excellency hoped, prayed and incessantly labored to effect. And knowing this to be a gentleman of weight and influence, he doubtless hoped he might impress him with a bad opinion of the popular obstinacy, which is manifest, even in the great and general court as much as in the factious town of Boston, who according to him 'do not know what is for their good, or if they do, will not regard it.' Some good people away back in the province, as Dea. Williams, Joseph Root, Esq; and a very few others, may yet remain uncorrupted with that damnable doctrine of resisting the instruments of the 'Lord's anointed' when they are graciously instructed to cut our throats!
